Foreword

We, the graduating class of Central High School, believe that we have received valuable preparation to help us face a world in turmoil. We hope that with our knowledge we may help to bring peace and happiness to the people of the earth.

The 1951 Snips and Cuts is presented in the hope that it may, in later years, recall pleasant memories of this past year at Central.

CLASSES

At Long Last . . .

At long last
The time is here
Of which we dreamed—
Our Senior Year.

The Banquet and Prom
Were the best ever had.
The Class Day the merriest,
But still rather sad.

And so we look back
And think with a sigh
Of the memories we had
At Old Central High.

One More Year

One more year,
How strange it seems!
For our Junior year
Will then be dreams.

Thinking now about the class
Where frogs and worms were cut,
The time of 3:05 at last
When books and lockers shut.

It isn't too long
For us to stay,
Since we find such fun
In each new day.

Dear Shirley,
Being in Foods with you has been great. You are a real cute girl - stay that way. See you next year. Love, Charlotte

We'll be here forever . . .

We'll be here forever . . .
Some things we'll love the best,
With what we did as sophomores
Held high above the rest.

The amo, amas, amat of Latin
Is the verb remembered well,
And the test in dear old Guidance
Whose grades we can not tell.

Recalling now detention hall
Where long hours were spent,
The pep rallies, Shylock, and basketball
Are to us what Central has meant.

SENIOR RING COMMITTEE

The 1951 Senior Ring Committee, under the leadership of Bill Scholl and the faculty adviser, Miss Cornelia Fore, completed one of its most successful years. Orders for over three hundred and fifty rings were handled by the committee.

Two orders were made for the '51 rings. The first order was received in the fall; the second in the spring.

The 1951 ring has a blue spinel stone encircled by the words—Central High School, Charlotte, N. C. On either side of the stone is a picture of Central and a wildcat. The senior's initials are engraved inside the ring.

The members of this year's Senior Ring Committee were Bill Scholl, Chairman; Sally Theiling, Peggy Bridges, Sory Guthery, Lillian Harding, Floyd Feeney, Jack Huffaker, Woody Gatling.

THE SEASON IN RETROSPECT

When football togs were laid aside, the recorder of King Football's royal court looked back on his reign of high school high lights.

He saw in the records that his Prince Larry "Peanut" Parker led his knights of the gridiron through a very successful campaign.

It all began when a Raleigh eleven from the capital stepped high and mighty into the Queen City. The "Caps" were a surprisingly weak team and got the short end of a long score in which Coach Brannin literally cleaned the bench. Score 41 to 19.

Rolling right along, the Wildcats pounced on Wilson in another uneven scrap. Showing much promise, Central left the field victorious. Score 20 to 0.

The knights of blue and gray overcame one of their biggest hurdles when they out fought Boyden High of Salisbury in a nip and tuck contest. Two outstanding backs, Larry Parker and Jerry Barger, who were later to join forces in the annual Shrine Bowl, gave the 11,000 fans a tremendous show. Score 13 to 0.

Traveling to Greensboro, the "Cats" found an inspired team awaiting them. With Tiny Burtner leading them, the Whirlies sent the Cats home with their first and last loss of the year. Score 7 to 21.

Rebounding sharply, the Wildcats returned home and played host to the Green Wave of Gastonia. They overran the visitors as Larry Parker thrilled the crowd with a spectacular 95-yard jaunt. Score 27 to 7.

Hitting the road again, Central journeyed to the hills to meet the Maroons of Asheville. Judged a toss up by sports authorities, the game turned into a riot with the Wildcats swamping the Maroons by a score of 28 to 14.

Slipping by fired-up High Point, the Central eleven added another scalp to their collection. With mud-soaked uniforms Central again trotted off the field on the long end of a short score—14 to 6.

Tying the Bulldogs of Burlington, the "Cats" lost a possible conference crown and all hopes for state laurels. Both teams played hard, desperate football, and a fourth quarter score by the Bulldogs turned a dream into a nightmare for Central. The final score was 19 to 19.

"Choo-Choo" jumped the track before a record crowd of 13,500. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, featuring Sonny ("Choo-Choo") Ridenhour, met a tremendously determined and far superior Wildcat crew. Thoroughly drubbed and confused by the Cats' three-man line and floating defense, the massacred Black (and Blue) Demons, licking their wounds, limped dejectedly homeward; their much boasted record of no losses and all wins broken and smashed with a score of 27 to 0.

From over the mountains came the Kentuckians of Male High in Louisville. Neither being fired up in any way, the fans saw a slow and sluggish Central eleven win their only inter-sectional game of the season by a score of 28 to 0.

Then the Wolf Pack of Tech met a bigger, more powerful squad and fell at the lances of the Central knights of the gridiron. Score 28 to 0.

Closing the season, Central tackled the Harding Rams in a colorful Turkey Day scrap. Thanksgiving afternoon 28 Wildcats closed their high school football days at Central. Eager to collect their last scalp of the season, the Central boys lashed their crosstown rivals. Parker performed one of his greatest feats. Seconds before half-time, "Peanut" ran 25 yards, only to have the play called back and Central penalized 5 yards to their 10-yard stripe. Parker tried again, this time going 35 yards before the play was called back. Now on his own five the mighty Parker took the ball for the last play. Around his own right end he shot down the field to score, with tacklers bouncing off him like buckshot off an armored tank. The game ended 35 to 0.

Thus the Knights of the gridiron carried on their battles.

Now the royal statistician checked his slide rule, formulas, and such. He saw that a new scoring record had been made, 287 points for the Knights, with 68 for the opposition. Thus the mighty "Cat" team had downed its average opponent 25 to 5.

King Football made his final statement. He told of Parker and Mainer's making the Shrine Bowl Squad; Parker, Mainer, and Alford taking All-Conference honors; Parker, Mainer, Alford, Frantz, Amos, and Hatley's making All-City. He recorded, also, last but not least, Larry "Peanut" Parker's making second string All-American. Parker's number 57 will always strike a happy chord in any Centralite's heart. Sadly King Football stepped off his throne; his reign ended for another year. As he left his words rang out, "Hail Knights of the Wildcat Gridiron! Lay your pads and helmets aside. Good work, Coaches Brannin and Sparger! You've done your jobs well! Be proud of your warriors. Central, always be proud and always remember:

They played the game
They played it hard.
They fought for a foot, or even a yard.
They sometimes faltered, but more often they won.
None of them quit; not even one."

LARRY PARKER

Now another year is at an end and Central looks back over some of its "Greats." Among these we find one Larry Parker, a name that strikes a familiar note to all.

"Peanut," as he is called by his team mates, has led all the school athletes in the state in sports. Parker is best remembered for his fine, outstanding work in football. He has scored 50 TD's in his three years of football and has gained 8.3 yards per carry of the "skin." The eighteen-year old, 180-pound senior also was on the basketball team and was one of the best push shot artists in the business. In Parker's Junior year he won the Carolina's Junior Golf Championship at Greensboro.

Parker's laurels to date include: All-City, 2 years; All-State, 2 years; All-Southern, 2 years; honorable mention All-American, 1 year; Second Team All-American, 1 year; Shrine Bowler; and sports writers' choice of outstanding football player in the state.

The modest man of talent plans to carry on his career at the University of North Carolina.

A FEW OF THIS YEAR'S RETURNING LETTERMEN

First row: Gene Griffin, Eddie Frantz, Hobby Cobb, Slug Claiborne, Tom Shaw.
Second row: Pinky Beane, Roger Little.

BASEBALL

Baseball, that sport in which Central High School has never been too interested, should be given more support and publicity. Newcomers gave the team its largest hope this year, aided and abetted by the more experienced George Robinson, Hobby Cobb, Pinky Beane, and Gene Griffin.

Last year's schedule of eight wins against twelve losses was a blot on the team's record, and the squad worked hard this year to overcome the former downfall.

Men that deserve Central's praise are Slug Claiborne, Eddie Frantz, Roger Little, Buddy Hazelton, Tom Shaw, Paul Dupont, and Hobby Cobb. They played good baseball and helped to overcome the handicap of the team's weakest point—hitting.

GOLF

A graceful "swish," a soft "thock," a shout of "fore," and another Central golf team teed off to defend an unblemished record.

Trying to maintain this perfect record for two years in a row was much harder with the loss of many of last year's veterans.

The weakened but very able team this year consisted of Bobby Sisk, Larry Parker, Charles Furman, plus some new and promising faces.

CANDIDATES FOR THE TEAM

Bob Dillard, Carter Terrell, Bobby Sisk, Charlie Furman, Eric Jonas, Larry Parker, Frank Stone.

Shirley,
I would like to wish you the best of luck always

TRACK

Preparing for one of the toughest schedules in years, Coach Leslie Outterson called his prospective cindermen out to begin rounding and molding a team capable of tough competition.

With the number of veterans returning, the largest in three years, outlooks were bright and hopes ran high. Among the returnees were Bobby Amos, Bill Logan, Ben Diamond, Ed Fuller, Charles Hovis, Richard Yandle, and Dick Turner, most of whom were three year men. Many new faces also reported and showed much promise in the well-balanced team.

TENNIS

With hopes riding high for the new season, Coach George Sawyer saw his prospective racketmen begin rounding into shape.

The team suffered the loss of five players this season, but the outlook appeared bright with some new faces and a few old ones.

Last year the tennis team had a perfect plus record; among last year's scalps were many college freshman teams. Lacy Keesler, the State Singles champ for two years, is number one man this year, with Skippy Roddey taking second, Tommy Holder in third, and Roddey Eaves the fourth place on the team. Other members were yet to be determined when the SNIPS AND CUTS went to press.

Dear Miss Landis:

It has been a great pleasure to judge the beauty contest for your annual, Snips & Cuts. The photographs of the candidates, which you submitted, were all so attractive that I found it difficult to make a decision. It was also difficult to make my selection without seeing and talking to each contestant.

The winners: Seniors; Sally Mock, Sybil Carson, Sara Rogers, Joan Richardson and Sue Jones; Sophomores; Jane Creech and Mary May Mitchell; Juniors; Betty Barrett, Phyllis Harris and Lucy Graves were selected on the basis of personality, character, and intelligence, as well as for natural beauty. My choice was influenced, of course, by my great interest in and admiration for the Natural Girl.

It would be a pleasure to meet them. With best wishes to the contestants, to the staff of Snips & Cuts and to the students of Central High School, I am

Sincerely yours,

CLASS POEM

GOD, OUR HOPE

God is the light.
Of knowledge, of truth, of all belief.
So it is, and so read this, and in your heart you shall find God,
As you leave these hallowed halls of wisdom and joy.

Behold! The light of God, of knowledge, of eternity; do you not see?
Look, and you shall see—for only you have the key!
This light shineth in all its glory, shineth for the young and for the old;
It shineth forever, forever to behold;
It shineth from His Hand, the greatest Hand of all, the Hand of God.
And as it shone, it created—
The stars, the moon, the Heaven, the earth, the sun, the sky,
Created a heart, a heart to cry.
It hath created eyes—eyes to see; created a mind—a mind to read,
Created knowledge—knowledge, the deed of life, that shall forever bear its seed.

It hath created life—life that shall forever be, forever shine.
Life, O God, we pray will always be kind.
It created that greatness beyond all wisdom, beyond all knowledge,
Belief to grasp, to hold, to keep.
It hath created forever a celestial nocturnal atmosphere, that all may sleep;
Created great days of brilliance, the blind can see,
For this light shineth as brightly as the truly beautiful, exotic sea.
It hath created the school of life, the books to read—
Books that will lead to that one magnificent greatness
'Tis belief
That God is the Light, and from this Light knowledge comes forth, and from this knowledge—
All men are free.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1951

"As we stand here at your portals . . ."

You stand on the steps that lead down to the broad sidewalk. You look up at the willow tree, at the third-floor classroom windows beyond. You look across the street to the parking lot where every car has a grinning yellow Wildcat on the back windshield. There's a ring with an oval blue stone on your finger and a thought in your head: It's not easy to think of Central days as days that are past. It's not easy to believe you're leaving, with a cap and gown and Central memories.

The things you remember about Central are myriad. You remember the small-school warmth of its big-school atmosphere. The way it made you feel at home. The easy cordiality, the smile in the hall, the relaxed wave of the hand. The laughter in the locker room.

You remember the Juke box at the Maid, loudly serenading the lunch time mob. You remember GGS sweaters, the crowd in the front hall before school, "Yea, Wildcats," the geometry class with the Music Building view. The smell of the halls on a Spring afternoon that somehow seems to be Central's own smell. The words that were Central's expression: "Can you spare it?"

Central could always "spare it." There was a good time for the asking, and, for the asking, there was always an idea to be picked up in a classroom. You think of Central and smile. It was a melting pot melted down.

Standing on the steps, you look up at the hard brown doors that face the street. You remember the first time you looked at those doors. It was raining—a rainy Monday morning in September, 1948.

For you, there were hectic first days as a sophomore when Central became a reality. Old friends and new faces. Days of World History and algebra. Danny Michaels, Slug Claiborne, Flowe Rodgers and Grady Price were the officers you helped elect. The football team won the city championship that year; the basketball team came close to winning the state title. A modern, well-equipped woodshop rose up behind the school, and inside the school they tried a brand new plan called "Guidance," with you as a guinea pig. Those were days of "Stage Door," "Oh, Doctor!" and "the quality of mercy." Lacy Keesler got elected class treasurer and won the state high school tennis championship. Slug Claiborne, Tommy Barnhardt and Dick McCall were the other second semester officers. Slug Claiborne, Bud Neimer, and Danny Michaels, all served on the Student Council. The Fayetteville football game was a horrible nightmare, but somebody noticed a halfback who played a few minutes in that game, fellow named Parker, who wore number 57.

"So wide and so high . . ."

Central was becoming for you a legend in her own time—something that takes a little doing. The next year, new clocks were installed and the bell system repaired. So buglers from the music department were stationed in each hall. Like many other things at Central that were a little unusual, it worked. George Robinson and Slug Claiborne held the class presidencies and Dick McCall, Eddie Frantz, Grady Price, Sally Mock, Jo Ann Bailey, and Tom Shaw helped them out. The Key Club hung a Confederate flag on the Ohio State capitol building in Columbus; the Dramatics Club went to Chapel Hill; the Orchestra to St. Louis. Art Golby replaced Hubert Philpott as dramatics instructor, and presented "Lost Horizon." The Variety Show and "A Waltz Dream" made Rambler headlines.

You recall the Colonial City—Dilworth feud which flared afresh that year. But it died down when all of Central welcomed the Mexico City High football team with a Homecoming Parade, a South of the Border "Hola, Amigo," and a walloping in Memorial Stadium. The football team won nine, lost two, tied two. That number 57 was becoming famous—Larry Parker was All-City, All-State, and All-Southern. Buddy Brown was a big name in basketball; the tennis team finished first in the state; the track team, fourth.

Quietly, a teacher stepped down. "Miss Jessie" Henderson, called by one of her former students, "greatness in a little brown dress," retired. She had been Rambler adviser for twenty-five years.

It was the year of the first Junior-Senior held in the Armory. Another rainy night. But no dampened spirits; instead, white coats and evening dresses and a "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" motif.

Danny Michaels got elected Student Council president. Tom Shaw was the vice-president and Flowe Rodgers was secretary.

"Singing loud your hymns of praise . . ."

And when summer was over and you were back, you came as a Senior. The things were the same—the same old cafeteria line, the same bus trips to out-of town football games, the same argyle socks being knitted in study halls.

But now, instead of having no particular meaning, the days became thoughtful ones. Slug Claiborne, who set a new standard for hard work at Central, was Student Council president, Pat Alford and Lacy Keesler were on the council, too. Jean Rayburn was the state "Voice of Democracy" contest winner. "Julius Caesar" in modern dress opened eyes toward Central from everywhere in North Carolina. Dick McCall, Floyd Feeney, Grady Price, and Jean Rayburn held down class offices. BEAT REYNOLDS. We did. Christmas already! Old friends, new parties, and in many ways, a New Year for you. Spring. Beach parties and picnics.

"Till they reach the sky."

You stand there on the steps and think about it. You think about the football games and the classes and the songs. You think about your days at Central, each memory a fragment. It's not easy to think of Central days as days that are past. They are still too close at hand: days of precious friendships, honors, victories and defeats; the days of the Blue and White, when cheers became music and defeat cut deep; the carefree days of laughter, of books and learning.

You turn and walk down the steps to the street below, realizing something: Not only have you been a part of Central, but Central's been a part of you. It still is.

CHARLES KURALT, Historian

CLASS PROPHECY

The year is 1963. The flood of war is over and democracy has swept the tide of Communism from the face of the earth.

I am seated in front of my people-vision screen. (Similar to old-time television, only instead of channels, it can be tuned to any person alive.) Through my head passes thoughts of old friends; people I knew in school, faces I haven't seen in years.

Guess I'll tune in some of the old guys and see what they are doing. First, old "Sparks" Owen. He was called "Sparks" because when he first finished his people-vision he accidentally picked up two live wires and . . .

Gee, he's still lit up. Oh, well.

Might as well see what happened to some of my buddies from the Creative Writing class. Here we are, a nice clear picture. Old Joey Raff and there's Douglas Kahn. Why, they are in court! Oh, now I remember they're suing Tommy Makens for stealing their Dostoyevsky collection. They say he took it right out of their law office. Tommy will have a lot of time for reading, where he's going. Those guys are the smartest lawyers in New Jersey.

Here's another, Barbara Simmons. Always said she would be a writer; one of the most successful playwrights on Broadway. Say, here's Jackie Jetton. She just got her first book published; something about social problems, no doubt.

Wonder what ever became of Zeke Johnston? Here he is. Running a haunted house in a carnival. From what I remembered, Zeke always ran a haunted house, or was running from one.

The hot rod drivers have now become automobile manufacturers. Jack Heard is turning out motors, Charles Redding is designing bodies, and Bob Lawhorn specializes in transmissions. That must be some automobile when and if it's finished. Near as I can remember, Redding always had trouble with bodies and Lawhorn had trouble with transmissions.

Pat Kirby is singing in the Hollywood Bowl tonight. Hey, that's Joe Corne on the piano! He sure is sitting still, but I don't see any ropes to hold him. Hope Joe has forgotten "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

Wonder what's new in the entertainment world. Jim Davie opened in "Hamlet" last week. Always was a fine actor, that Davie. Wonder if he still kicks himself in the pants in rehearsals when he forgets a line?

Julian Massi and Pete Jacobsen have gone into the clothing business together. Pete designs the clothes and Julian makes them. I'd like to give the boys a little business, but I don't like purple polka-dots on pegged pants with welt-seams.

Here is a good picture of the Kuralt family—Charlie married Sory Guthery. Something seems to be wrong with Charlie. Oh, I see, he's lost his voice. If Charlie hadn't shouted so when he made his campaign speeches, it never would have happened. Yep, Charlie has still got his fingers in politics and his eye on Sory.

Flo Pearson teaching school? Florence loved her dramatics, but I never thought she would teach school. She makes about thirty bucks a week and gets all the chalk she can eat.

Here's Paul Patterson. This must be the night he said he was gonna give up the fight racket. Dog-gone good fighter that Paul. Had a terrific left arm, too. I ought to know. He use to prop it on my shoulder every day in Family Living class.

Jimmy Babb, Larry Parker, and Bob Amos have closed their sporting goods store. Went bankrupt; nobody wanted to buy used equipment.

This is a good shot of Mary Bradford and Tirza Ison getting ready to go on stage at the Roxy. I always knew those girls were a vaudeville team. They took over the act Jack Chrisman and Charlie Lineberger had. Jack and Charlie fell out of a line. Oh yes, now I remember, it was something about a cheeseburger.

CLASS PROPHECY

Here's a picture of Danny Michaels addressing the Republican National Convention. The Democrats have Bud Niemer up for President. From here it looks like a pretty even match. Johnny Jackson is the Republican nominee for senator and Mac Howey is the Democrat. Johnny has even quit smoking so he can hold himself up as an unblemished citizen. Well, that's politics.

Say, old Emory Kingry has gone into radio. Some of his cabinet designs are pretty good. Here's a picture showing him turning one of his sets off. Reckon it was Ben Alexander's singing that made him do it.

Doug Beard and Tom Bethea are tied in a door-to-door selling contest. Bethea has a good selling voice but Doug falls in the door and goes through a death scene. First he gasps for water, then he tells about his starving wife and children. No wonder he sells so much.

Marjory Blankenship is said to be the finest newspaper woman in the business. The motto of the paper, The Daily Blow—It's printed on Kleenex—is "All the news that ain't fit to print."

Sybil Carson and husband, Dan Mainer, have just sailed to Europe for their honeymoon. They have been married nine years but this is the first time Dan has had a leave of absence from the La. Rams, the pro football team of which he is co-captain.

Here is a picture of Billie Harwell. I knew she would be a fine looking woman as she was such a fine looking girl. She's hostess on the same airline as Pat Blade.

The plane Pat was on crashed the other day but no one was injured. She forgot to fasten her safety belt; and when the plane came in for a landing her head hit the side of the plane. Pat was unhurt but the plane was a total wreck. Roddy Eaves, the pilot, lost his plate, but other than that was uninjured.

I could look at this people-vision all night and not see everybody. I hate to leave it but I've gotta get some sleep.

Good night.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

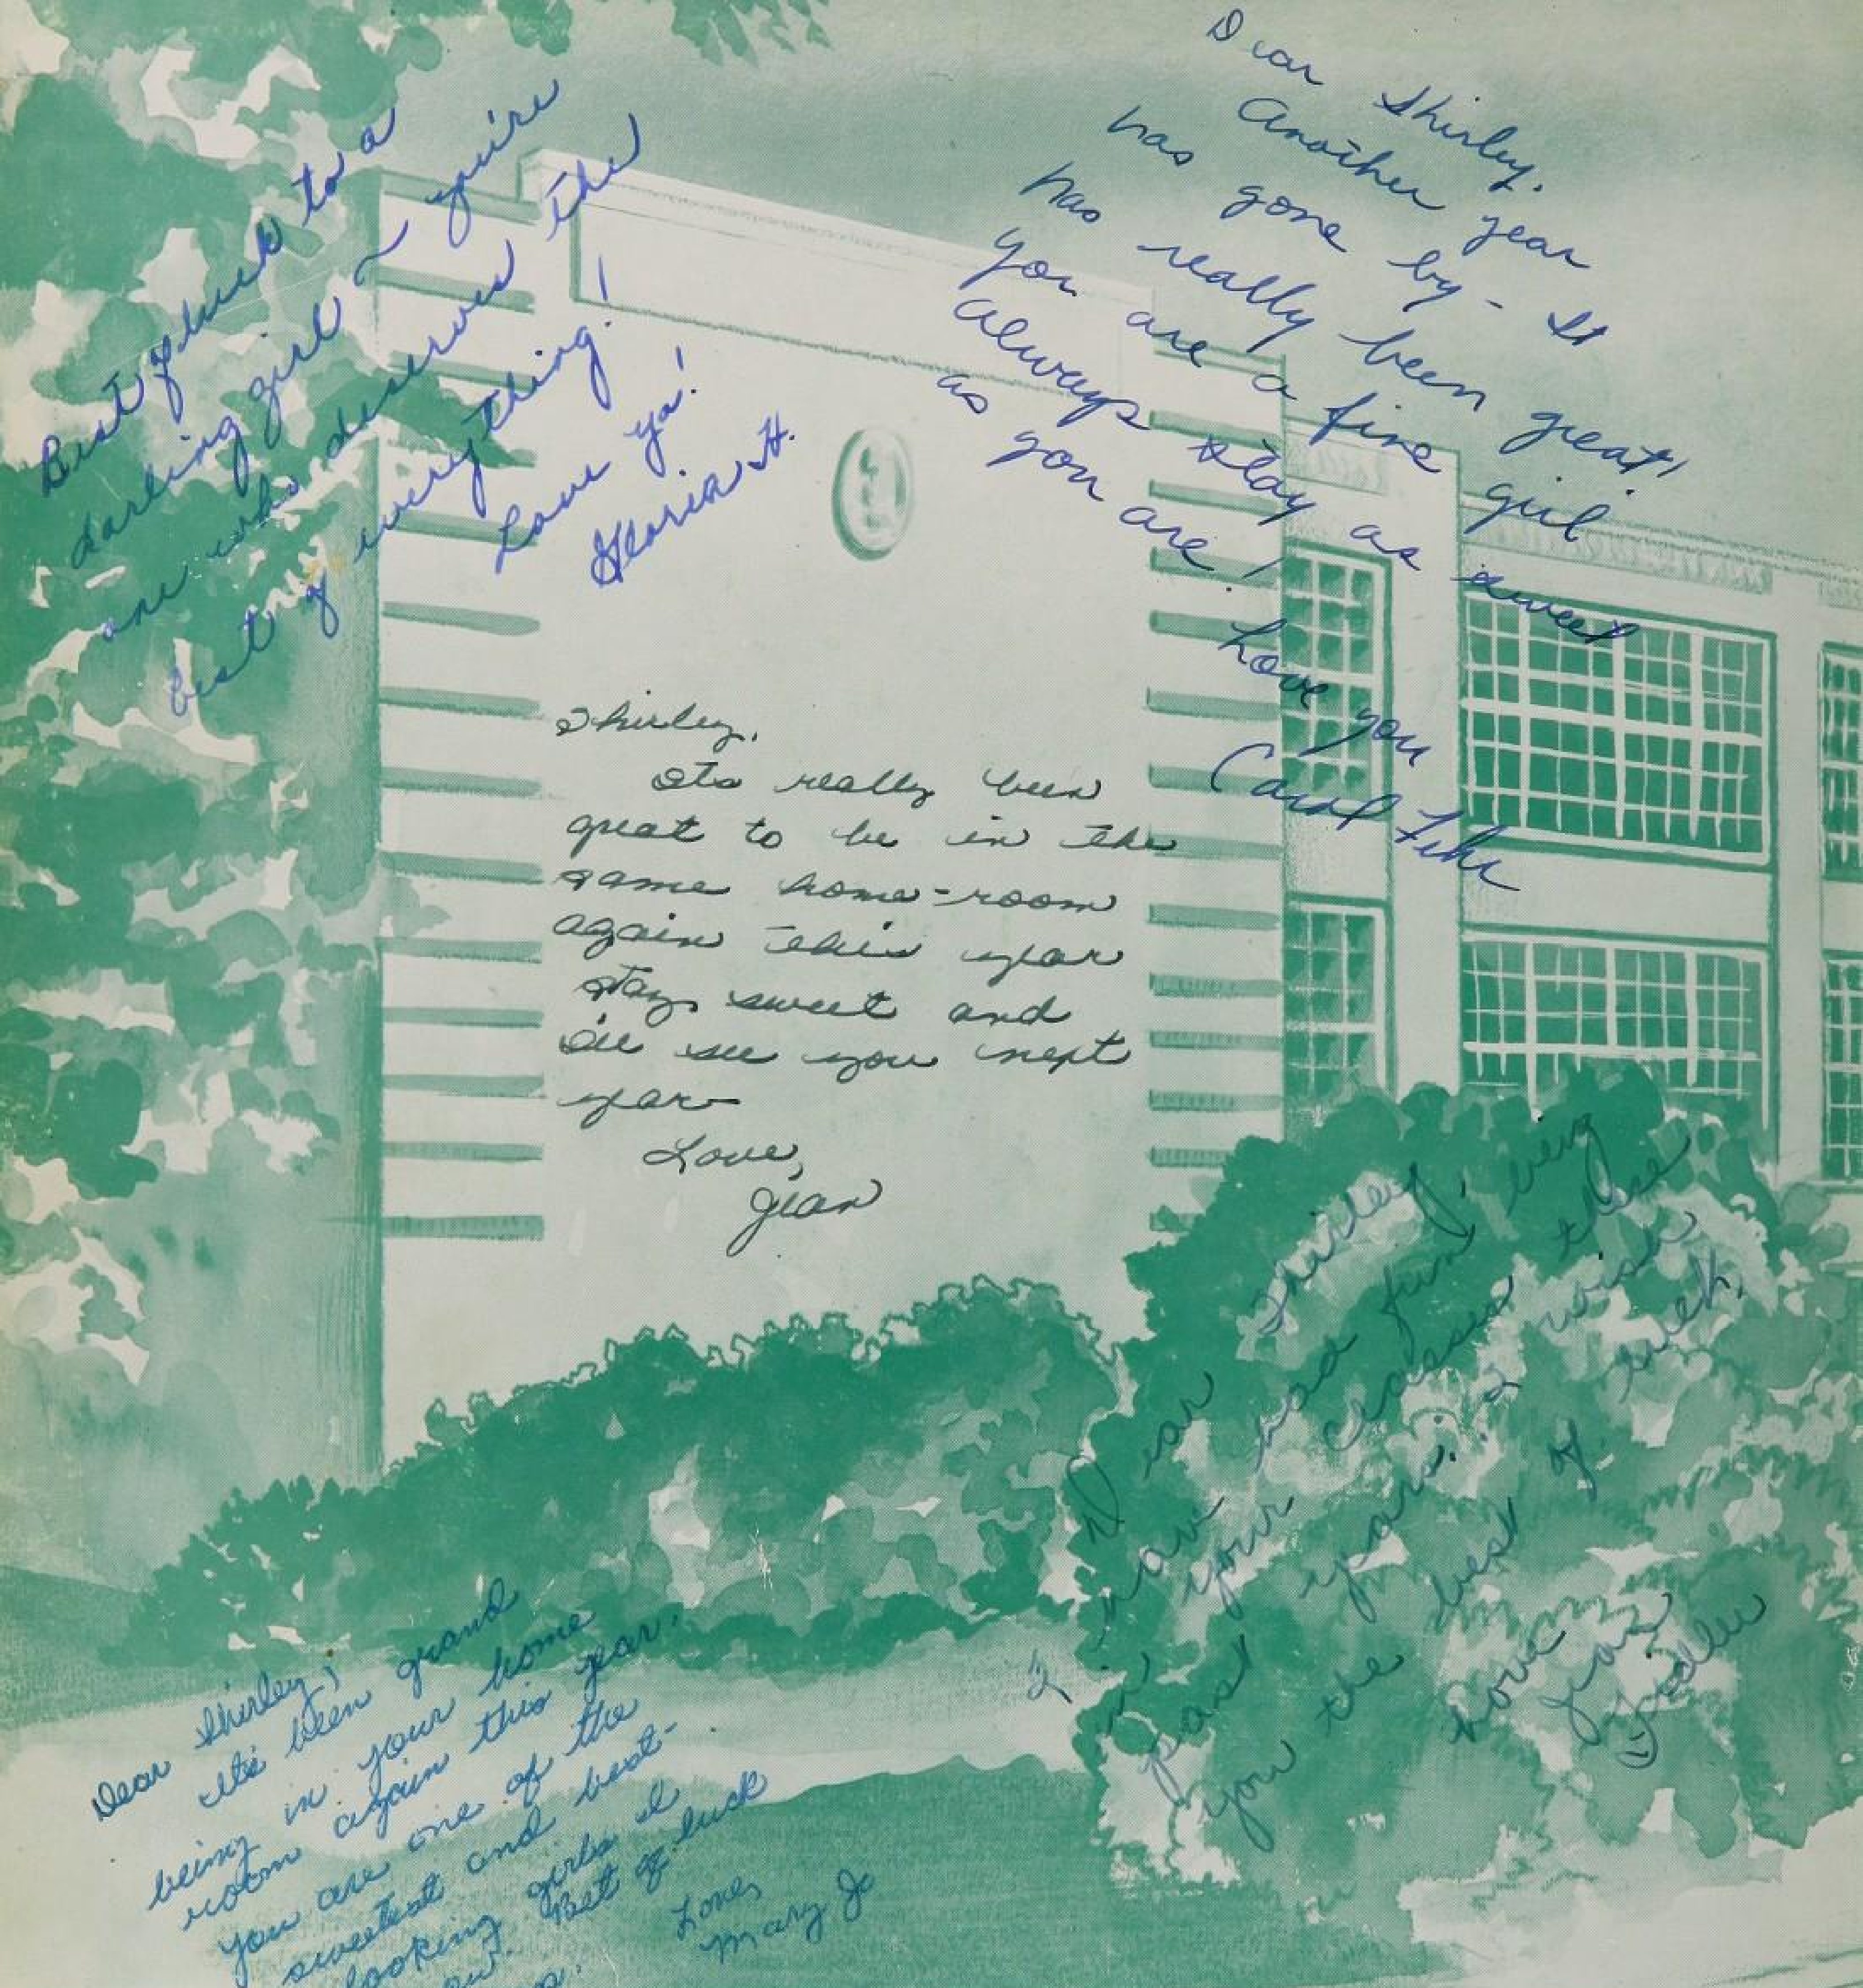
My Dearest Shirley;

Being with you has been wonderful this past year, so wonderful that I can't think of words to express this great privilege. Yes, I said privilege, and by this I mean that I have never met a person that I could enjoy myself with doing anything no matter what it is. You are a sweet and understandable girl, but you would have to be to put up with a person like myself. We have our little differences but everyone has their ups and downs in a lifetime and we certainly have had ours. These little differences between us seem to bring me even closer to you. No matter how mad I seem to get at times I always seem to forgive you within a matter of moments. This a true sign of affection I suppose. Well as you will know it's time to close because it's time to go to the hospital. I have only said half of what I want to say but here hoping you understand.

I Love you,

Gregg



Best of luck to a darling girl — you're one who deserves the best of everything!
Love ya!
Gloria H.

Dear Shirley,
Another year has gone by - It has really been great. You are a fine girl. Always stay as sweet as you are!
